

Mammaprada

HOME / BILINGUAL KIDS / LIFESTYLE / PARENTING / TRAVEL /
MARKETING SERVICES

EASTER GIFT GUIDE FOR ALL THE FAMILY

March 27, 2020 / Kristie Prada

This is probably one of the strangest Easter celebrations that we have all prepared for. I expect for many of you it's very low on your list of priorities. However, as levels of lockdown increase, it's clear that none of us will be or should be going Benvenuti! Welcome!

CREDIT: ORIGAMI STEEL.

The HOOK Apple Branch

This beautiful wall decoration is both perfect for creating a focal point in a room and practical. It can be used to hang decorative items, to store jewellery or accessories, display photos or even to hang your jackets and keys on.

The apple branch can be purposed for either indoors or out and I love that its leaves and fruits can be easily bent so they support whichever precious items you would like to display. Just like the cuckoo clock, you can choose from a range of colours. Should you wish to match or contrast to your room.

CREDIT: ORIGAMI STEEL.

5. Edible Easter Gifts

Given that food orders are proving hard to fulfil I know many of you, especially those with children, will be wondering if the Easter bunny will appear this year!

Luckily as of today, I could still find chocolate eggs available from Lindt, Thorntons, and Godiva. Some of the big-name brands which you may normally buy from are swamped and many have closed their online shopping for now. However, if you purchase from one of these stores, at the moment they plan to fulfil all orders even if the delivery times are a little slower than normal. (not next-day delivery).

I have also been able to purchase some children's eggs from Amazon, through the regular delivery service not through Amazon Fresh which is currently struggling to free up delivery spaces.